WAINWRIGHT, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 26th, 1942

Price $2.00 Per Year In Advance

PERMANENT ARMY SITE NOW BEING SET UP AT WAINWRIGHT

Upwards of Three Million Dollars to be Cost of Camp; Will House Five Thousand
Troops; First Arrivals Expected
November 1st; Extra Housing
Accommodation Needed

With literally yards and yards and yards of plans and blue-prints and what-have-you, the chief engineer and his staff are now busily employed in setting out the complete site for the new big military camp which is being established here by the Department of Militia and Defense at Ottawa.

The authentic information which has been obtained by The Star will set at rest the minds of the "doubting Thomases" who have had a grape vine telegraph very busy as to the use of the National Park at Wainwright as "simply an internment camp for the Japs!"

The project now starting is to be a permanent, operational military camp, and will within the next six months provide accommodations for upwards of 5,000 troops of all branches of arm service, as well as a large number of staff officers, etc.

CONTRACTS ARE LET
We understand that the camp will not be receiving raw recruits but will be used mainly for practice work and finishing off troops ready for service in any part of the Empire. These will probably include machine gunners, tank battalions, ordnance corps, and so forth, and each will be quartered run right to the site.

The work entailed in erecting the camp will necessitate a large influx of labor to Wainwright, and preparation for the accommodation for these tradesmen and other labor is something which our Town Fathers and citizens generally must be looking into at the earliest possible moment in order that the hundreds of men engaged on the project which we understand is to cost in the neighborhood of two to three millions of dollars, may be looked after.

AIRPORT TIES IN

Further to the above and tying in to some extent with the war services at Wainwright, is the selection and surveying of the new airport and landing field site, which is now being surveyed here, and which we understand is planned to be on a vast scale, and with its own railroad spur. This will provide for operational and aircraft troop transport, and will in all likelihood be put to use after the war as a civilian airport in the big Alaska air highway scheme. This, of course, will prove of immense value to the district, also, and should give a real feeling of security so far as enemy invasion is concerned.

Taken by and large, the choice of Wainwright for these big installations, and the great flux of men and spending power to our town, is one of which all citizens may well feel proud, and such a project as has fully justified the work and energy which our Board of Trade and Town Councilors have expended upon having this district and center brought to the attention of those at Ottawa in charge of such things.

EXTRA HOUSING NEEDED

With the camp in permanent establishment, and a possible five or six thousand men of the armed forces located here (1,500 of whom may be confidently expected to arrive early in November) it should be high time that something be done by our merchants and citizens to establish some sort of recreational and restful facilities in town, and one of the first of these might well be the setting up of a hostess house and possibly a covered skating rink, so that Wainwright and all within its borders may well prove proud of being thus placed upon the military map of Western Canada and which will necessitate greatly increased business facilities and also housing accommodation for possible wives and families of officers and men.

BOARD OF TRADE MONTHLY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Wainwright Board of Trade will be a DINNER MEETING at the Wainwright Hotel, on WEDNESDAY NEXT at SEVEN P.M. Sharp.

All interested are required to be in attendance; there is important business to deal with. By Order, L. Baxter, Sec.

Recruiting Unit Here For Air Force

Even after almost three years of war, the demand for men and women to serve in the Royal Canadian Air Force is greater than ever. At no time since 1939 have so many openings of all types been available. As the tempo of the war increases, more and more men are required to fly the planes that daily carry death and destruction to the axis powers. For every plane in the air, dozens of mechanics, wireless operators and other skilled workers both men and women are needed on the ground.

The Air Force urgently requires mechanics — wireless operators — pilots — navigators — observers — bomb aimers — and air gunners. Lack of education is no longer a barrier to enlistment; the Air Force is equipped to train applicants in all trades and offers regular pay and allowances during the period of schooling. Applicants for air crew training may be granted leave until after assessment if it is desired.

Women serving in the R.C.A.F. perform many slighting duties in the release for flying duties. Women are needed as cooks, waitresses, drivers, stenographers, clerks and telephone operators. Unskilled workers will be trained in the service for the trade chosen. There is an opening for every one in the Royal Canadian Air Force Women's Division.

All eligible men and women are asked to contact the mobile recruiting unit of the Air Force when it visits this locality: check the time and place on the following schedule: Tuesday, Sept. 1 — Paradise Valley, 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.; Chauvin, 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.; Edmonton 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.; Wainwright, 8:30 p.m. to 11:00 p.m.

Wednesday, Sept. 2 — Wainwright 9:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; Irma, 2:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.; Kinross, 3:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.; Viking, 4:00 p.m. to 12:00 p.m.

LOCAL NOTES

News from Misses Doris and Eileen Forster tells us they are both now employed at an aeroplane factory in Vancouver.

Among the townfolk visiting the city last week were Mrs. F. Roberts and Messrs F. E. McLeod, W. McLeod and Wallace Carr.

Local Farmers Are Asked to Register

In order to render all possible assistance to farmers at stocking time, the Wainwright and District Board of Trade have taken in hand the matter of the available supply of help for the harvesting operations.

The Board is therefore asking local farmers to register with Mr. L. W. Smith, at the Bank of Montreal, as follows:

- 1.—Farm help that they now have.
- 2.—Help needed for stocking grain.
- 3.—When help needed.
- 4.—Number of acres to stock.

It is not yet arranged as to transportation for the extra help, but the Board will endeavor as far as possible to transport volunteer workers from town to give what assistance they can in evening hours—say from six till nine.

Farmers are asked to register as above at once so that arrangements for any help that is available may be completed as quickly as possible. 26-3

WEDDING BELLS

HESS — CARL

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lue Carl of Greenhills was the scene of a pretty wedding which took place Wednesday August 19th when their daughter Laura (Toots) became the bride of Alvin Hess, R.C.A.F. The room was decorated with pink and white bells and streamers, gladioli, dahlias, centurens and zinnias. Rev. Clegh of Edmonton officiated.

The bride looked lovely in an after noon frock of pale blue crepe with a matching chapel veil which was held in place by a bridal wreath of white gardenias. Her bouquet was of sweetheart roses and the only jewelry worn was a necklace which was worn by the bride's mother on her wedding day.

She was given away in marriage by her father who is with the R.C.A.F. and is at present home on leave from Coal Harbor B.C.

Mrs. Harvey Cooper, twin sister of the bride acted as matron of honor and was charming in a frock of amethyst blue carrying a bouquet of tallia mar roses. Mr. Walter Hinton, brother-in-law of the groom acted as best man.

Receiving, the mother of the bride was attired in an afternoon dress of beige and brown and wore a corsage of lovely red roses.

A number of friends and relatives were present at the reception which followed. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Schreyer, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wright and Jean Arlene, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Hinton, Barbara and Judy all of Manville.

The happy couple left for Saskatoon, hence to Manville for their honeymoon before departing for Winnipeg where the groom is stationed.

Special Period of Savings Stamps Sale is Planned

Citizens of Alberta will set aside 15 minutes of the afternoon of September 3 to pay tribute to the armed services by making extra purchases of war savings stamps and certificates.

According to the plan, which will be named "Fifteen Minutes for Miss Canada", every place of business in Alberta will be asked to devote all the time between 3 and 3:15 p.m. of September 3, solely for the purpose of selling stamps and certificates to the business customers.

In this manner, the war finance committee is asking Albertans to pay tribute to the extra sacrifices that men in the armed forces are making by asking citizens to make an extra effort to invest in savings.

It is an extra appeal for extra purchases of savings planned as an incentive for increased regular buying in the future.

"Miss Canadian", will be playing their part in the brief demonstration. Merchants are being asked to co-operate and citizens of the province will be expected to make more than their regular purchases of savings during the "Fifteen Minutes For Canada", on September 3.

WHAT ARE WE FIGHTING FOR?

(An editorial from Liberty

The German people could answer that question: so could the Italian. It has been drummed into them for years. A whole generation has moved from the cradle into the army with only one thought before them: one dream, one purpose. They are out to conquer a world.

The little yellow man of Japan has the same dream. He knows what he wants and he knows why he is fighting. He is a shrewd; he is cruel; and he has never been very far beyond the ragged edge of starvation. Now he is out to satisfy his needs, and more. He is going to take those things from someone; and say way we look at it, that someone else is ourselves.

They are arrogant people, these Germans and Japanese. They want not only a world where they will be, and have everything they want a world where everyone else would be subservient to them. The German dream the Japanese dream, is to get their feet on the neck of all the free people of the world and to reshape that world nearer to the Nazi heart's desire. If you don't believe it, open your eyes and look about you.

The Germans and the Japs know very well what they are fighting for. But do we know? What are we fighting for? "For freedom," we say, "for liberty, for our way of life." These words are the lofty obscenities that register with us very little. We have gone past the first surge of war enthusiasm. We are eager to read now of how weary the German people are of war. We comfort ourselves that there is danger for them in this attitude. We don't recognize the same symptoms in ourselves. But there is in this country a rush to the recruiting booths? The places of some women who worked so diligently for the Red Cross months ago, are vacant as often as they are filled. We read our papers, and are pleased to agree with the headlines that a few Jap planes shot down can offset the stern facts that we have lost Burma, that Japan has come all the way round to the back door of China, and is knocking at the gates of India.

We have not yet begun to fight—not with the desperate concentration of the men of Dunkirk. They knew what they were fighting for—just to remain alive. But what are we fighting for? Is it real? Is it worth while? Is it personal enough to stir us out of our dangerous overconfidence? "Our liberties!" Well, what are they? The liberty to speak as we wish and worship as we wish. How long will these remain to us if we lose? How long did they last in Norway or Denmark or Holland or Belgium or Poland or France or Greece or those other countries that have been snared by the swarm of Nazi locusts? And don't let us believe that our case is different from theirs. If the British and United States navies should lose a few more capital ships, if Pierre Laval does what he obviously will to do—deliver the French fleet into German hands—then the Atlantic and Pacific are about as effective

NOTES

The Red Cross Work Room will re-open on Saturday, August 29th. With accounts of Canadians wounded or taken prisoner during the recent raid on Dieppe, we realize afresh the need for our Red Cross work to be carried forward unflinchingly.

Our latest shipment of goods brought the following acknowledgments:

"Enclosed find our official receipts Nos. 923-4, covering your shipment received today. I wonder if you enjoyed packing your boxes as much as we enjoyed unpacking them. Everything was so beautifully done, and there were so many articles. By adding the number of socks and bonnets in your babies' sets, 426 garments came in. I think that is a record for any one branch. Your scarves, socks, sweaters etc., are so uniformly done and so very well knitted that it is hard to select any particular kind of article for special mention. I think perhaps the babies' socks are the greatest appeal, and there are many 'oh's' and 'ah's' when it is unpacked. However, I think my heart goes out to the socks and scarves for the soldiers, sailors and airmen."

Please thank all the members of your branch who have made such a splendid contribution of work for the people of Britain and our men in the services. Also thank the Junior Red Cross for their excellent knitting."

The monthly meeting of the Executive of the local branch of the Red Cross will be held on Tuesday evening, September 8th instead of on the first Monday which is Labor Day. We would remind our readers that fathers fought. They, to get them; we to get them back. If we don't win, you and I will never see them again.

14 More Facts About Britain at War

1—Workers and employers have sacrificed peacetime rights to ensure maximum production. In essential industry 8,000,000 workers cannot quit their jobs or be dismissed, except by permission of the Government.

2—The latest British bombers, the Stirling, Halifax and Lancaster, carry heavier loads of bombs than any other bombers in service in the world. The Stirling can carry eight tons of bombs—much more than even the bomb load of the huge American Boeing Flying Fortress.

3—Party politics are out for the duration. Labor leaders sit in the Cabinet and on all important Government committees. In the factories, joint labor-management committees work out production problems.

4—Shipping is Britain's life-line. Launchings in 1941 totalled 1,250,000 tons. Naval tonnage produced in the last quarter of 1941 was four times as great as that produced in the last quarter before the war; merchant tonnage, twice as great.

5—For two years British troops have been fighting on a world-wide front, mostly alongside troops from other parts of the Empire. By September 1941 total Empire casualties were in excess of 183,000. Up to January 1942 seventy-one per cent of all British Empire casualties suffered on land were men from the U.K.

6—In daylight sweeps over the Continent of Europe in the first half of 1942 the R.A.F. destroyed enemy Axis planes to make up fifteen complete squadrons.

7—Working time lost in labor disputes in Britain is less than one hour per worker per year.

8—Britain is now producing twice as many tanks as in August 1941, three times as many as in February 1941, and five times as many as in August 1940.

9—A third of the British troops who fought in Greece were from the United Kingdom, i.e., England, Scotland, Wales and North Ireland. In Crete, the proportion was nearly one half. In Libya and Britain it was more than a half.

10—Because of the need to conserve shipping for vital military supplies, the people of Britain have willingly accepted severe rationing of almost all foods. No one can buy more than two ounces of butter, or more than two ounces, of tea a week. Many fruits are completely unobtainable.

11—When France fell in 1940 Britain was left alone in the Near East with a force of 40,000 men against 200,000 Italians in Libya and more than 200,000 in Abyssinia. During General Wavell's campaign in Libya his striking force never exceeded 30,000 men. In eight weeks he captured 130,000 prisoners.

12—Britain is mobilizing its fields as well as its factories. The home production of food has almost doubled since the outbreak of war. Six million more acres are under the plow than before the war. Britain is now the most highly mechanized farming country in Europe.

13—Malta, strategic British island no larger than Martha's Vineyard, resisted Axis attack for nearly three years with the enemy fifty-eight miles away, and the nearest British base 1,000 miles across the sea. Malta has had more than 2,000 air raid alerts, and has destroyed or damaged at least 720 Axis aircraft.

14—Out of the thousands of ships convoyed by the British Navy less than one in 200 has been lost.

R.C.A.F. Overseas,
July 29, 1942

The Editor:
Dear Sir—As you can see I have changed my address again. I really do get around, don't I?

I received two "Stars" not long ago, and although they were quite old I was pleased to get them. Harry French is here with me and so I pass them all on to him so they are well appreciated.

We are on a pretty fair station and things are going along quite well for us so we have no kick coming. Cigarettes are still scarce but they are coming through slowly. A real Canadian cigarette is well appreciated over here, even the English like them better.

The very best regards to all the folks over there.

I. GLENN.

BREWING INDUSTRY OF ALBERTA

The map printed above shows the distribution of rainfall that has occurred over the Prairie Provinces during the months of August, September, and October, 1941 and the growing season of 1942 to August 10, combined. It will be observed from this map that most areas of the Prairie Provinces have received an abundance of rainfall and the general moisture situation is now better than for many years back. A number of areas, however, are somewhat deficient in moisture, notably in the west central part of Saskatchewan and portions of Alberta, but no area has suffered from actual drought conditions. It will be noted in particular that south-central Saskatchewan which was once known as the "dust bowl" has enjoyed better than normal rainfall during the period under review.

The moisture condition of the three Prairie Provinces for the fall of 1941 and the growing season of 1942 to August 10th combined, weighed and averaged for wheat acreage is 118 p.c. of normal as compared with 87 p.c. a year ago. In Alberta, similarly, the moisture condition is 121 p.c. as compared with 77 p.c. a year ago. For Saskatchewan the moisture condition is 114 p.c. as compared with 85 p.c. a year ago, and for Manitoba the moisture condition is 128 p.c. as compared with 118 p.c. a year ago.

It must be remembered, however, that this year's larger percentage of the crop than usual was sown on summer-fallowed land, which contained, in addition, moisture reserves from one extra season.

FARM NOTES

SHRUBS FROM SEED

A large proportion of the trees, shrubs and vines used for the shelter and the beautifying of home grounds begin as seed. Most seed is sown to best advantage in autumn at the Dominion Experimental Station at Morden, Man., states W. R. Leglie, Superintendent. Exceptions are elms and silver maple. These ripen in late May or early June and are sown about mid-June.

A number of kinds of seed will store dry and germinate promptly when sown in earliest spring. However many lose their natural urge to start into seedlings when stored on the shelf for a few months. Hence most woody ornamental seeds are sown in September and October. The general tendency is for the seeds to lie dormant, at least to outward appearance, until their earthy bed thaws out in April. Many seeds experience internal chemical changes, known as after-ripening processes, during the autumn and winter months. Contact with the moist soil may be required for this altering of seed composition.

The optimum setting seems to be in a seed-bed placed in a sheltered garden at a position at least as far from the sheltering trees as their height. The seed-bed is made of 1 x 6 or 1 x 8 inch boards placed on edge 3 1/2 feet apart. These are supported by stakes. A cover of lath slats woven through chicken netting or a screen of brush is placed over the seed-bed to lessen evaporation and to imitate the partial shade the seed would usually have in nature. The soil is preferably of moderate

HEAVY RAINS AND ABUNDANT WEEDS

The heavy rains of this year have produced an abundant crop of weeds particularly in fields on which flax was grown. Unfortunately the bulk of these numerous weed plants have not to seed and so when the crop is cut vast quantities of new weed seeds will be scattered in the surface soil. Special efforts should be made to cope with this new and heavy weed infestation.

As quickly as harvesting and threshing will permit, farmers will be well advised to give a light cultivation or harrowing to their fields so as to encourage as many of the new weed seeds as possible to germinate and to grow before the winter sets in. Then the winter freeze-up will kill plants and those that survive the winter will be ready to be killed by a light cultivation as soon as the spring thaw takes place. Cultivating or harrowing this fall is better than plowing, for if plowing is done the weed seeds are merely turned under and will not germinate this fall, but will come up again with the crop of next year to spend twenty times as many weed seeds over the land.

Following factors have tended to decrease supply or increase demand:—In the U.S.S.R. as a whole a net reduction in wheat acreage is reported for 1942—European and North African crop yields are reported to be below average in most regions—Bread grain supplies in India are below normal as a result of war operations.

richness but not specially manured or fertilized. It is worked up fine. Trenches are opened at six inch intervals and made about a quarter or a half inch deeper than needed. That extra space is filled by spreading sharp sand in the bottom of the depression. Seed is sown covered with soil, packed and then thoroughly wet. A quarter of an inch of sand or a half inch of granulated acid peat spread over the surface is a benefit. Such a layer lessens evaporation and tends to prevent crusting of the top soil next May.

Black Market Trading Enrages Poor Folks

READING ENGLAND.—No, it isn't easy to write just now. One is so afraid, somehow, of swaying too much one way or the other: of being thought gloomy or—worse still—foolishly cheerful. So how about being quite natural and letting it run on as it comes? And that's just what I'm going to do.

The news naturally hurts and maddens us—just as it does you, I guess. Who and what is to blame? And all the while The Pattern goes on working out, and in spite of everything that is happening. I hope, a pattern of a better and more sensible world. Plenty of us can see that the world has been a bit of a mess for a long while; personally, I think it's been rather a mess for centuries. Perhaps this drastic and terrible spring-cleaning will do what nothing else has been able to do. For pity's sake, let's MAKE it do so.

For my part, I am convinced that all the trouble started (and always has started) from that shocking habit of refusing to believe unpleasant things. All over the world folks have done it: it seems to be inseparable from what we call 'civilisation.' If you're comfortable yourself and don't want to notice—or think about—something uncomfortable . . . well simply pretend that it isn't there. So much more snug than disturbing your

If somebody tells you the Other Fellow is going to do a disagreeable act before you can turn around, you get shocked and assure your informant that he has base ideas, and that the Other Fellow is a decent sort of chap, what nothing else has been able to do. For pity's sake, let's MAKE it do so.

We are hopping mad about our own particular spot of cake-grabbing that is going on—this Black Market business. Something will have to be done about that. Last night I made a man I know promise faithfully that he would write to his Member of Parliament, and get a word of assurances to his letter. If everybody would do that the stir would be enough to work the miracle. After all, what else can the ordinary law-abiding citizen do? Here we are making our rations do their work, trying to save—and these voracious money-grubbers go on pandering to the folk who just won't play ball.

What's the use of punishing the small men? It's the big boys at the top who've got to catch it. No, you've simply no idea how angry we are. I wonder how they would react to the promise of a firing squad? Anyhow if this sort of thing should start on your side; don't stand any nonsense from the word 'Go.' If there is food it should be available to all, and at a reasonable price. And these folk who have always gorged themselves three times a day should learn that war—no matter who and what they are—means a salutary tightening of the belt. Oh we know a good bit of what goes on believe me! There is a nest of 'em, and it will have to be smoked out. And now I've spilled that I feel better.

Today—early in April—the sun shines warmly—at last. It has been a terrible winter; and even now I don't trust it. The frosts are still hard and the poor allotment men there help less. My warmest dressing gown—carefully patched—covers me in the house; for we must have fuel of course. The nice kindly soul with whom I now live looks with an indulgent eye on this battered relic of better days, and has taken to the hab it herself. She is a woman who has always been comfortably well off, and has had a beautiful home; yet she does not think of grabbing or of wasting anything. As a matter of fact, all the people one really knows are pulling their weight.

We have just signed a paper offering shelter for a few hours to any neighbor who may be bombed out. We all hope it won't happen but we're ready. For our own shelter there is only a tiny cupboard under the eaves, though it simply staggers me that anyone should have to live there. I don't wear my heart on my sleeve; she says but I guess there are some rather sad and anxious hours for her down there in her pretty sitting-room.

Now there is this new order forbidding the wasting of paper. I don't mind simply staggering me that anybody should waste. For the comfort of those dear souls who send me letters, papers and parcels from Canada, I can assure them that not one scrap is lost to the war effort. It is all saved up and once a fortnight put out in this horrible mess of war. This new order I hope will start a good national habit for I am afraid we are an atrociously untidy nation. It has always been impossible to go anywhere within ten miles of a town without finding the woods completely littered with picnic-remains, ice-cream cups and cigarette packets. Why on earth people can't bring back their rubbish—or bury it—I don't know.

One never sees rubbish in the streets in Scandinavia. That is one of the first things which struck me about the place. It's early training of course; make the kids rubbish conscious and the trick is done. So here's to the new law. Neatness may be one of the good things which will come out of this horrible mess of war. I guess we shall learn many things.

And there are folk with a lot to learn, I assure you. Some time ago in the lounge of an hotel, I came up on a most unpleasant young man—without finding the woods completely littered with picnic-remains, ice-cream cups and cigarette packets. Why on earth people can't bring back their rubbish—or bury it—I don't know.

Yea, the whole story fell very flat and he then drifted out. When he sees me now he fades rapidly from the picture, realizing that the glove is down between us. He thinks of me you may be sure as that horrible little woman in the corner. I am so glad.

FRUITS — GOOD TO EAT — AND GOOD FOR YOU

We are lucky people in this country. We have fruit to eat the year around, fresh, canned or dried. All fruits give us minerals and vitamins.

THE HIGH RANKERS FOR VITAMIN C — Some fruits have more vitamin C than others. They rank First — Oranges and grapefruit. Second — Canned or fresh tomatoes — Third — Canned pineapples. NOTE: CANNED GRAPEFRUIT & the juice have almost as much vitamin C as the fresh fruit and at times are cheaper.

HOW MUCH FRUIT DO WE NEED? Eat one high ranker every day, plus one other kind of fruit. For example, add apples, prunes, or figs.

YOUR MONEY GOES FARTHER IF YOU BUY — Small "juice" oranges instead of big ones. Canned grapefruit or grapefruit juice instead of fresh. Tomato juice in large cans. Small prunes instead of big ones.

FRUITS WILL TASTE BETTER & BE SAFER IF YOU — Keep all fruit juices in a cold place and cover the fruit juices. Wash fresh fruits before eating. Wash dried fruits, soak, and cook in same water. DO YOU KNOW THAT — Dried fruits in bulk are cheaper and taste just as good as packaged fruit? (Sweet prunes do not need extra sugar.)

Stuffed dried fruits can be bought in bulk? (Smaller pieces but as good flavor.)

Rhubarb in season or soaked dried fruit can replace apples in Brown Bury? (Try it with prunes or apricots.)

Best apple sauce is made from unpared apples? (Better flavor and better color.)

FAVORITE RECIPES

Stewed Dried Apricots

Saskatchewan Pool Elevators.

United Grain Growers Limited.

These Companies handle and purchase this material on behalf of the Government without cost to the Government, and without profit to themselves. Any monies received over and above the actual cost of handling will be donated to War Charities.

An Agent of one of the above named Elevator Companies has been appointed in your district as an official buyer on behalf of the Wartime Salvage Limited. The price to be paid by these Agents has been fixed by the Department of Munitions & Supply at $7.00 per net ton at the elevator, for all forms of scrap iron and steel including: (a) Sheet tin of any kind; (b) Automobile bodies and fenders; (c) Skewpipes; and (d) Wooden attachments.

This price applies at any designated point in the Prairie Provinces.

Your contribution to the war effort and to war charities is simplified by this arrangement and it will be more effective inasmuch as you now can take your scrap metal to the Elevator designated in your district and obtain a receipt for it from the Agent.

Should you desire to donate your scrap to the war effort, then such receipt vouchers can be endorsed by you, payable to the Voluntary Salvage Committee in your community. The Voluntary Salvage Committee will use such money for war charitable purposes.

Your contribution of scrap iron and steel is urgently needed NOW. Dig out every available ounce of scrap on your farm and take it to the Elevator Agent nearest you without delay. Canadian war industry needs it badly.

Western Wheat Deliveries Restricted

WINNIPEG. — The Canadian Wheat Board, in a statement to the grain trade dealing with instructions concerning trade said "the individual delivery quotas in effect during 1942-43 will be patterned to restrict total western wheat deliveries and sales to 280,000,000 bushels as required by order-in-council P.M. 1802 of March 9, 1942."

The use of a restrictive quota statement said, means that many farms will have wheat in excess of the quota. "This wheat can not be marketed in 1942-43."

"Merchants, et cetera, who accept such wheat as security for debts, do so at their own risk and in full knowledge that it can not be disposed of during 1942-43, at least."

"Such wheat must not be shipped milled, sold for local consumption (except from producer to feeder) or disposed of in any commercial way. It is doubtful in the general interest, whether it should be taken from the farm for long storage in a fixed position."

The Board statement added that while there are many handicaps and even dangers in the receipt of wheat by merchants, during the operation of a restrictive quota, the same considerations do not apply to oats and barley, the marketing of which will only be limited by the availability of storage space.

Her Words are Music

Melba Garcia Guerrero was born in Santiago, Chile, studied art in Brussels and Paris, toured Canada with Francis Ledere's company in "Autumn-Crocus" two years ago, made her first radio audition at Toronto less than two months ago; made her network debut two days later. Senorita Guerrero's delightful voice has added a Spanish note... to the current CBC musical presentation, "Serenade". The programme, heard over station CHIC Watrous (540 Kc.), presents Latin American music Mondays at 7:00 p.m. MDT, from Toronto under the direction of Isidor Scherman.

Canadians May Get More Tea per Person

OTTAWA — They qualified their statement with two or three wartime "ifs", but informed sources say that an increase in the tea ration which is one ounce a week for each person over 12 years of age is something to which Canadians may look forward with a degree of optimism.

When the increase may come depends on the success of United Nations ships in traversing 8,000 miles of hazardous water from sources of supply in India and Ceylon. It was understood the one-ounce ration was a minimum, announced Aug. 2 after consideration of the stocks on hand and the shipping situation. Had the ration not been set low, stocks on hand would have been depleted rapidly without any certainty of their being replaced for a considerable time.

"It was considered best to set the ration low to spin out supplies in sight as equitably as possible and make upward adjustments later if new arrivals made this possible," one official said.

BLACK BATTLEDESS

Twenty thousand British locomotives are putting on war paint "for the duration". As each "loco" comes in for repair and overhaul, its gay crimson or green or blue for the individual railway together with the emblems and other decorations, are being hidden beneath a coat of uniform black paint.

Both paint and labour are also being saved by the decision not to paint new or repaired wagons except for a single bottom board which bears its number and ownership. Passenger carriages are being given coats of paint or varnish only when absolutely necessary for protection against bad weather conditions while interior decoration must await the end of the war.
